Dear Wallcut -

May 1860

53- My thoughts are in the office there - not with Caesar, - but with you, and that general state of Chaos which I left, and which I burn to have a finger in, in reducing to order; - but you may, (and may not,) get the start of me therein.

If the shelves ^{are} are put up on Monday, according to agreement, I would ask you to lose no time in seeing a good painter — (and most likely that C. Allen would tell you of a good one, unless you know of one whom you would prefer to call upon —) and setting him at work in painting, or staining ^{them,} — somewhere near the Column of the doors, —

He sh^d. be in readiness to apply his brushes, as soon as the carpenters are done,

C. L. W.

Leicester Ms

will doubtless assist you in this work, as you may need.

If you have any letters for me, and if you have an opportunity, (by Mr. Nell, or otherwise) of sending them directly to New York, please do so.
— Otherwise, please detain them, until you hear from me further. —

I hope the 'O'Connell Tracts' will be sent on, on Monday; if for any reason, they are delayed, Tuesday p.m. will do, as we shall then have them in Season for our 2^d day's meeting.

- I have made the above suggestions, about the painting, because it seems to me it would be a great mistake not to act, simply because F. Jackson & Allen are absent. Allen is one of the Committee - you are another - and Whipple another I think (if not, I appoint him my substitute) & so you have a quorum.

Truly Yrs. S. May Jr
